

AQ-PM-4.2-2023

Originally fashioned for a late 80s show-house, the faceted surfaces of the Nanz Prismatic collection were inspired by the art of the stone cutter. Joined with a matching set of complementary components the collections can be used throughout a project and is another wonderful example of a highly versatile transitional design style. A variety of bath friendly finishes are offered. Contact one of our offices for more information and assistance with specification.
